Two City Commission Jobs Filled By Sarto, Casentini

Two long-vacant commission posts were filled by the city council Monday.

Joseph Sarto, long-time Daly City resident and sports patron, was named to the recreation commission, filling vacancy created by resignation of Mrs. Ann Carlson.

Dan Casentini, prominent in the Italian-American Citizens group, was appointed to the library commission. He will fill the unexpired term of Francis Pacelli, newly-appointed councilman.

Sarto, 64, of 175 Station avenue, has resided here for 32 years and operates a local sanitarium. He was for 16 years a member of the San Mateo County Republican Central Committee and at one time served on a Daly City recreation committee.

Sarto has sponsored numerous athletic teams here in the past 17 years, concentrating primarily on basketball and baseball. He is widely known for his work with youth.

Casentini, 36, lives at 86 West Cavour and is employed as a driver-salesman for Premium Products.

He is past president of the Daly City - Colma Italian-American Citizens club and of the Italian-American Federation of San Mateo county.

Both appointments were made by Councilman Micheal De Bernardi and confirmed unanimously by the council.

Plan Fund For Major City Projects

A capital outlay ordinance which would create an "untouchable" fund for major building projects was introduced by the council Monday night.

Presented by City Attorney Paul Hupf, the ordinance creates a special fund for capital outlay projects. Money in the fund cannot be spent for purposes other than capital outlay without the consent of the voters at a special election.

The ordinance provides that the fund will be created with either surplus from the general fund or by taxes levied by the city specifically for the special fund.

The tax would have to be levied within the $1 state limit for general purpose government, however.

The surplus of some $150,000 now held by the city would not become a part of the special fund unless the money was specifically allocated by the council.

Hupf said the money in the capital outlay fund could not even be touched by future councils, except solely for capital outlay projects.

Mayor Joseph Verducci termed the ordinance a "way of showing our good faith to the people. We can't touch this money for anything but capital outlay unless it goes to a vote of the people."

It is expected that the capital outlay fund would include such projects as a new city hall and a Westlake library branch, two items scheduled for priority by the newly-created council steering committee.

Councilman Sanford Vickers introduced the ordinance.

School Unification Draws Protest From Brisbane, Coastside Trustees

200 Attend Hearing At Westmoor Hi

A rosy picture of life in the hometown school districts was painted by some 20 opponents of school unification at a public hearing held Friday in Westmoor library before a packed house of more than 200 citizens.

The hearing, held before the 10-man San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization, was called for the purpose of determining whether a "formal" study should be made on the proposal to unify Jefferson High schoool and four elementary districts within its boundaries—Jefferson elementary, Laguna Salada, Bayshore and Brisbane.

Proponents of the study, represented by the local Citizens Committee for Better Schools, were in the distinct minority, had petitioned the county group The better schools committee to hold the hearing.

Key spokesman for the group urging a unification study was Larry Freiberg, who declared that unification of school districts was a national trend and the "most nearly ideal plan for school district organization."

Advantages of unification cited by Freiberg were: more effective coordination of programs; single administrative control; more efficient use of funds; and equalization of financial resources (spreading of assessed valuation).

Freiberg emphasized that, "We are not asking for unification, merely a study of unification by an expert committee. Excuses of holding the study some hazy tomorrow when we have time are no good."

Thomas Noonan, another member of the better schools group, reiterated that, "A study is what we want. The president of the United States has asked the people to examine their school programs."

Others speaking in favor of the study were:

'Can't Prejudge'

Mrs. Anthony Nocita, 362 Glenwood avenue—"I speak only as an individual, but we can't prejudge work of the committee. There must be an election to bind us to unification and we can always reject the committee's recommendation."

Mrs. Mary Rewak, Brisbane—"I favor the study. We can benefit by learning the pros and cons."

The opposition, made up primarily of school trustees, came armed with arguments. Trustees of every school district except Jefferson Elementary arose to publicly protest the study.

The point that was echoed over and over by Brisbane and Bayshore representatives was the assessed valuation issue.

"Pull Us Down'

Louis Duncan, clerk of the Brisbane board, said unifica-

NEED MORE ENGINEERING

Duties Of Public Works Director Upheld By City

A move to oust Public Works Director Otis Calhoun from his job and have him devote full time to engineering work was tabled by the city council Monday.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, declaring that many engineering projects faced the city, moved that Calhoun be removed altogether from the public works department and that he devote his time exclusively to engineering and design. Specifically, De Bernardi referred to the design of a new city reservoir, which will require services of outside engineers if Calhoun is unable to spare time from managing the public works department, which includes streets and water.

De Bernardi suggested that management of streets and water departments be taken over by subordinates now working under Calhoun.

Under City Manager

The subordinates could work directly under the supervision of City Manager Howard Stites, De Bernardi said.

Stites objected to this proposal, declaring, "If you don't expect Mr. Calhoun to handle these departments, how do you expect the city manager to do it?"

Councilman Del Wilson seconded De Bernardi's motion, later sided with the other three councilmen to table the motion.

Mayor Joseph Verducci contended that De Bernardi's proposal was "to drastic an action to take" on a moment's notice.

"I'm not knocking Calhoun or the public works department, I just want more time spent on engineering," said De Bernardi. "Stites can't just administrate. Somebody's got to do the work instead of hiring a million guys."

Motion to table was approved, 4-1, De Bernardi opposing.

Other Action

In other action Monday, the council:

1. Held over bids for power lawn mower. Bids ranged from $1167.95 to $1265.60.

2. Approved extending fire insurance policy with North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association after raising valuation of some city property, lowering others. Total insurance value placed on city property was $1,033,000, up $103,400 over the past year.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

Attendance at Monday's regular session of the city council is believed to have established an all-time record.

When the gavel came down at 8 p.m., there was not a single person in the audience.

When the meeting closed at 10 p.m. one solitary citizen was listening in.

Realtor ART COLVIN just returned from a 10-day jaunt to Hawaii with fellow realtor BOB FAIRMAN and some 85 other members of the Press and Union League club who chartered a plane for the excursion.

Art came home to find himself $100 poorer (not counting expenses).

He bet his staff a C-note that they wouldn't sell 10 homes in the 10 days he was gone.

They sold 12 and Art paid off with $100 for his crew's Christmas party.

But Art isn't complaining, for reasons obvious.

JOSEPHINE RUNNE, secretary for the DCPD since 1955, puts in her last day's work this Friday (at least for a while).

The first issue of the Broadmoor Property Owners association "Digest" came off the press this week, under guidance of A. G. DELFINO, editor.

Hearings were scheduled January 14 for two more variance applications submitted by Caesar Callan Co. for their $5½ million apartment development.

Applications submitted to the planning commission Tuesday asked reduced setbacks on two parcels in the 381-unit apartment house area.

The council had earlier approved two variances for the Caesar-Callan firm in other portions of the development.

In other action Tuesday, the commission:

1. Approved eliminating four-foot rear-yard requirement for commercial property at northeast corner of Beta and Mission steet, owned by William Lagomarsino & Co.

2. Continued request of Fellman Roofing Co. to rezone property at 110 Bismark street from R-1 to C-1 to allow for building expansion.

3. Denied application of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Bartz, 1 Westdale avenue, to construct patio cover on their property.

PLOT CITY PROJECTS

Name Steering Group

A 10-man citizens steering committee to map future capital improvement needs for Daly City was appointed by the city council Monday.

The committee will form the nucleus of a larger citizens committee which will outline projects in order of priority. Among items for consideration will be a new city hall, Westlake library branch, firehouses and parks. Methods of financing the numerous city projects will also be investigated by the steering committee.

Each councilman named two members to the steering committee.

Appointments were:

Mayor Joseph Vrducci: Jack Kendree, Westlake Shopping Center executive; Dennis J. Franco, Westlake bank manager.

Councilman Del Wilson: The Rev. Roy Milam, Westlake Baptist church minister; Elsie Berg, housewife, 101 Westridge avenue.

Councilman Francis Pacelli: Richard Dwyer, Westlake accountant; Dale Williams, Westlake engineer.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi: Tony Masini, farmer; Frank A. Monte, partner with De Bernardi in a Westlake service station.

Councilman Sanford Vickers: Jack Walo, insurance agent; Gene Andrus, school employee.

The committee will gather for the first time next Wednesday at the council's adjourned session and councilmen will outline specific functions of the group.

Board Approves Specs For Three New K-6 Schools

Elementary school board trustees have approved educational specifications on the Doelger-owned Abraham Lincoln and Portola school sites, east of Skyline, and have asked for an okay on both projects from the state division of school planning.

The Abraham Lincoln site, south of Westmoor high, covers 23.58 acres and will house 902 children in two K-6 schools. Each school will include 12 classrooms, a kindergarten, multi-use room and an administrative unit.

Portola school, also a K-6, is planned on a 14.87 acre site, south of the Abraham Lincoln project. Enrollment will be 451 children.

In other negotiations, the district is awaiting approval from the state on the Westlake basin compromise with Henry Doelger and expects a settlement soon with Zita Corporation on the two K-6 sites and the under-condemnation M. Pauline Brown site, all located within the St. Francis Heights subdivision.

The administration is attempting to get commitments from San Francisco property owners for purchase of three acres in the proposed 10-acre General Pershing site off Hanover street.

Ready War Memorial For Xmas 'Pageant'

With only a week left until the completion of the War Memorial Community center, the City Parks and Recreation department announced today that the building will be ready for the Open House and Christmas Pageant next Thursday night.

Finishing touches, such as installation of floors, cleaning of the huge windows, and moving of the Public Works department into its new offices at the north end of the building, will be completed in the next few days.

The entire open house is being held in conjunction with Daly City's official Community Christmas Pageant which will be staged in the gym of the War Memorial building the same night. More than 250 Jefferson Elementary school district children will participate in the pageant, singing many favorite Christmas songs. Among these will be: Adeste Fidelis, Angels We Have Heard on High, While Shepherds Watch, Jesus Is Born, Christmas Bell Carol, O Lord Most Holy, Deck the Halls, I Saw Three Ships, The Heavens Are Declaring, and Silver Bells.

This portion of the program will be under the direction of Mrs. Muriel Vint, supervisor of music for the school district.

Daly City's own municipal band, under the baton of George Brenner, will be heard in their annual concert of popular Christmas classics including: March Fairest of the Fair, Christmas Festival Overture, Swan Lake Ballet Music, Around the World, The Trumpeters Carnival, Merriment Polka, March of the Toys, Amina, March of the Spanish Soldiery and March Our Gallant Infantry.

The finale for the Pageant will include the entire band and carolers.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the open house is scheduled for 8:45 p.m.

WOMAN'S SCREAMS FRIGHTEN OFF ATTACKER HERE

A 40-year-old woman told Daly City police Monday night that a "polite speaking" man about 25 years old accosted her minutes earlier after offering to help carry Christmas packages into her home.

Edna W. Faulkner, 40, a clerk by occupation, said she was approached about 10:30 p.m. in front of her home, 122 Vista Grande avenue, as she parked her car following a shopping trip in San Francisco.

The alleged assailant, described as bald, about 5-10 and of husky build, first asked, "Can I be of help?" She declined the offer, but the man rushed over and picked her off the ground, putting one arm around her waist and his hand over her mouth. She immediately screamed and the attacker fled north on Santa Barbara avenue, according to the police report.

TRUSTEES OK STREET PACT BY WESTMOOR

High school board Monday night approved a pact with the Zita Corporation for an outlay of about $27,000 as the district's share of installing perimeter streets around Westmoor High.

The subdividers, whose property is contiguous with the high school property, will finance one-half the cost of the project which includes curbs and gutters.

At their next meeting, January 6, trustees hope to wrap up the second phase of the Westmoor Master Plan, by approving a $34,700 commitment with builder Henry Doelger in sharing costs of paving, installing curbs, gutters, storm drains, sewers and street lights at the Doelger property (Unit 10) bordering the high school.

Both Zita and Doelger officials cooperated with the district by changing their original plans to provide for perimeter streets. Had trustees declined to act now on sharing the street costs, the work would have been delayed indefinitely and much more costly in the future. Zita and Doelger are going full speed in grading their new areas, thus the decision by the board on [illegible] streets was expedient and economical to both the district and the subdividers, according to Supt. Ed Morgan. Money for the district's agreement with Zita on the perimeter streets and for the proposed pact with Doelger will come from bond funds. Once the district goes on state aid next spring, this reserve will revert to the state, thus trus-

New DC Reservoir In Planning Stage

Plans for a $100,000 reservoir with a capacity of 1,250,000 gallons were revealed by the city council at study session last week.

The water tank will be located west of Skyline boulevard and will serve the upper elevations and St. Francis Heights in the Westlake area.

November Building Total Dips

Building activity for November took its usual seasonal dip, but held close to the total for the corresponding period in 1956.

There was a total valuation of $228,430 for the month, based on 39 permits. New dwellings, 24, accounted for $201,500 of the total volume.

November, 1956, was slightly higher at $243,128, on 48 permits. Last month's total dropped off sharply from the previous month's $633,986, which was second high for the year. The slowdown of building activity in the late fall and winter is not unusual, however.

Breakdown of last month's building (permits and valuation):

New dwellings, 24, $201,500; dwelling alterations, 8, $10,500; apartment alterations, 1, $1200; signs, 2, $350; buildings moved into city, 2, $12,000; retaining wall, 1, $1500.

tion would "pull down our program. Our community would overwhelmingly vote down unification. Our board is in unaminous opposition."

Elio Fontana, chairman of the Jefferson High school board, expressed his and fellow trustees' "unanimous opposition to a formal study."

'Waste Of Time'

He said three of the districts concerned have major building projects underway, can not afford to "loan their staffs for outside studies and concluded that, "It would be a waste of time to have a study now when there's no chance of unification being approved by voters."

Peter Markovich, Daly City Chamber of Commerce representative, noted that, "Everybody that's spoken has been a school trustee or PTA member. I'd like to hear from some of the citizens."

"Unified we lose all," argued Arthur Kennedy, Brisbane Chamber of Commerce president. He said that the high valuation of the Crocker industrial property was "a plum that we don't want to give up."

Loss Of Interest

David With, Brisbane Lion, said local organizations such as the Lions would lose interest in projects for schools and youth if there were a single large unified district.

Curtis Kirby, Bayshore citizen, and Allan Rigler and Howard S. McLain, Brisbane residents, sided with the opponents of unification and McLain read a resolution by the Brisbane Church of the Nazarene opposing the merger.

A decision on whether to hold a formal school unification study will be made December 27 by the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

If the committee agrees to hold the study, "augumented" committees made up of all county school trustees will be formed.

At least three more public hearings will be held if the study is undertaken.

The study would take approximately 1½ years and results of it would be submitted to county supervisors, who have the option to place the unification proposal before the voters as a referendum.

Unification requires approval of a majority of the voters living in the five affected school districts.

Leaving the front door of his house unlocked cost painter Theo Sipes of Daly City the loss of $314 in personal property Tuesday afternoon to a burglar.

The ransacking job at 707 Bellevue avenue occurred sometime between 12:30 p.m. and 5:30 that evening while Sipes was at work.

A "pro" may have committed the theft, police believe, since most of the stolen items were "pawnable." Taken was a man's jacket, three wrist watches, a portable typewriter and radio, two guitars, a cigarette case and lighter, two sets of cuff links, and one of Sipe's shirts.

Nuclear power now helps serve Northern California

P. G. and E. customers first with privately-financed atomic electricity

CUSTOMERS OF P. G. AND E. are the world's first users of atomic electricity produced commercially in a privately-financed plant—the new Vallecitos Atomic Power Plant near Pleasanton.

This history-making achievement in the peaceful use of atomic energy is a joint developmental project of the General Electric Company and P. G. and E. The plant's output of A-electricity flows into P. G. and E.'s transmission network which serves Northern and Central California. It is helping to light your home and run your appliances right now.

Atomic electricity no different

A-electricity is just the same as other electricity. The only difference is that nuclear fuel is used instead of the usual fossil fuels (oil, gas and coal) to make the steam which turns the generators.

A-electricity now costs more in the United States than power made in conventional plants. It will not become a basic power supply here until it costs no more than electricity made with fossil fuels or falling water.

The future of commercial nuclear power

G-E and P. G. and E. joined forces at Vallecitos to gain experience and know-how from building an atomic plant and operating it for everyday commercial service. The lessons being learned and the experiments being conducted at Vallecitos are hastening the day when A-plants will become economical. We will be ready with low-cost A-electricity long before the inevitable depletion of the fossil fuel supply.

Thus, P. G. and E. customers may continue to be assured of power ahead of their needs as well as the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

THE FOES OF ONE SCHOOL DISTRICT

A public hearing Friday on the comparatively unfamiliar subject of school unification generated what seemed to us an unusual amount of interest.

We are always gratified to see a large turnout on matters of general public interest and the 200 plus crowd was the best gathering we've seen here in a long time.

The matter was, obviously, of general public interest, but it's questionable if opinions expressed were those of the general public.

Most of the testimony was by school trustees representing Laguna Salada, Bayshore, Brisbane and Jefferson High school districts.

Of the five districts which would be affected by unification, Jefferson Elementary was the only one which did not send delegates to protest the holding of a formal unification study.

It is axiomatic that local governments rebel against any measure which might remove some of their local autonomy. And when unification is posed, school administrators and trustees are quick to rally opposition. Under unification, instead of five separate school districts, each with its superintendent, administrative staff and five trustees, you would have only a single governing board and one central administration. There wouldn't be enough trustee and administrative jobs to go around.

Some of the speakers at the hearing expressed fear that unification would mean a loss of local identity. We are inclined to agree with those sentiments. Unification would create problems the smaller districts haven't even heard of.

What are these problems?

We'd like to know, and the only way to find out is a formal study of unification. The only purpose of Friday's hearing was to determine if a study should be held; not to reject or adopt unification.

Nobody mentioned what it would cost to conduct a unification study, but we would venture the lion's share of the work could be done with information already at the disposal of the local school districts.

If the price is right, there is no reason why a study on unification should not be conducted.

We thought the local school representatives "did protest too much."

THEIR SOLDIER HERO

DC's Maurice Moore Becomes A 'Legend' To Panamanian Boys

FORT AMADOR, CANAL ZONE—Two of the most unusual mementos a U.S. Army man ever took from the Isthmus of Panama went with Daly City Specialist 3/c Maurice Moore of the 534th Military Police Company, Fort Clayton, when he left last month for discharge in the states.

They were two small athletic trophies and a place of honor in the hearts of 15 young Panamanian boys and their families.

The trophies aren't worth very much in cold cash, but Specialist Moore wouldn't take a million dollars for them. They were won in a Panama soccer league by a boys' team which he sponsored, using his own small savings to outfit the players.

Invaluable Reward

No man can estimate the value of Specialist Moore's other memento. It was the warmth of a smile from a lad who found it difficult to express thanks because he spoke no English. It was the gratitude of a mother to whose son the young MP brought a gift of happiness. Specialist Moore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Warren Moore, of 351 Crocker avenue, began his one-man adventure as a good neighbor about eight months ago.

A Panamanian friend, Carlos Jordan, an employee of the Caribbean Exchange System, told him of a group of boys in Panama who loved to play soccer but had no equipment. The next time Moore had a day off he went to watch the lads at practice. He didn't know a thing about soccer—in Panama it's "futbol"—but he loved kids, and one look at the boys playing the rugged game barefoot or in street shoes and Specialist Moore knew he had to sponsor this team.

The boys, who ranged from 10 to 15 years in age, first were provided with uniforms. Moore bought each one a jersey and sneakers and got material which was made into shorts by some of the mothers. Next came a soccer ball and a team name, the Manzanillo, and the group was in business.

Providing the equipment was only the beginning. Moore never missed one of their league games and seldom missed a practice session. He made sure that after every game there was a reward for his players—a candy bar, a soft drink or a movie.

Win Championship

Within a month those kids began playing like crazy. They ran through all league opposition to take the championship trophy and then beat an all-star team that challenged them to take another cup.

None of the lads spoke English and Moore was unfamiliar with Spanish. They got along though, even when Mr. Jordan could not act as interpreter, because a smile is the same in any language. To the team boys, Specialist Moore was "Moe." He was also a pretty wonderful "Norte Americano" to them.

But he wasn't giving them just a handout. You had to have something to be on his team. You had to keep the sneakers and uniforms clean, you had to have your hair cut—Moore gave each boy money for barber shop visits twice a month. You also had to buckle down and forget the horseplay during practice. You played by the rules and you played fair.

To keep the boys supplied with what they needed was a strain on Specialist Moore's finances. It meant skimping and giving up little luxuries his barracks mates knew.

But to Moore, it was a blue chip investment. His team had spirit. The boys walked with heads held high, proud to be on the Manzanillo.

Parents began coming to the games. Moore was invited to their humble homes to share a simple but gracious hospitality.

On free afternoons the soldier took the boys on trips, for a swim, to the Panama Canal locks, or to a snack bar for a hot dog supper.

Like A Father

To Moe they came with problems. A father was to go for a job interview and didn't have a proper shirt. Moore rifled his own closet. A cousin badly needed a pair of slacks. Moe found the money somehow.

"Sure," he says, "it kept me strapped, but there wasn't a better way in the world to spend the money."

Moore, who comes from a family of nine brothers and four sisters, says he is "just interested in kids." Before graduation from Balboa High School in San Francisco he was a boys' camp counselor. Then he entered the Army. Basic training at Fort Lewis, Washington, and MP training at Fort Gordon, Georgia, kept him too busy to work with children.

When he arrived in the Canal Zone, he formed a boys' club for dependents at Fort Clayton before transferring his activities from an Army post to the Republic of Panama.

On return to civilian life he hopes to take special schooling to equip him for work with the juvenile authorities in California.

For the Manzanillo, the chapter doesn't end just because the specialist is returning to the states. He plans to continue sending money to keep the team operative.

He hopes, too, to arrange to bring one of the boys to the U.S. and foot the bill for his education.

There's another thing Specialist Moore took from this tropical land—a shining dream. Somehow, he's going to finance a clubhouse for kids in Panama. "His" boys may be grown by the time this dream can see reality, but Moore knows there will be other boys here to grasp the hand he extends in friendship.

Jefferson Hires Warne To Direct Driver Education

The heavy enrollment in the Jefferson Adult Driver Education classes has necessitated the appointment of a full-time instructor to take care of the behind-the-wheel instruction.

Selected for the new post is Richard Warne, a graduate of San Francisco State College. Warne holds a special credential in driver education and is completing his work for a teaching credential this January.

At the present time, instruction is available on a part-time basis, but with the delivery of a '58 Ford from Neville Motors this week to join the '58 Chevrolet donated by Gateway some time ago, instruction will go full blast. Warne will assist Lou Martin, coordinator of the program, and Clayton Kollmann, who is assigned to the coast.

The next class in driver education will begin on January 13. Those interested should phone PL 5-1162 for reservations. Class size is limited and there is no waiting for those accepted.

Sewing, Sunshine Club Luncheon

Colma PTA's Sewing and Sunshine Mothers club luncheon for November was held at Mrs. M. Nofziger's home on Clark street, Colma. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Nofziger, Mrs. Gino Marchetti and Mrs. J. Gustavino. A lunch was served the guests and plans were discussed for an apron sale.

The next meeting is to be a Christmas party at Mrs. George Bertucci's home, 185 B street, Colma, on December 18. Anyone wishing to come should call PL 5-5040. To make it a more festive affair everyone attending is asked to bring a 50 cent gift to be exchanged.

DC Optometrist Attends 'Congress' On Contact Lenses

Dr. R. Lee Otis, Daly City Optometrist, on his return from Los Angeles where he attended the 2nd National Contact Lens Congress, reports that "contact lenses, after more than a century of research, have become a highly specialized and integrated segment in the fields of vision correction."

The congress, held for the purpose of bringing latest techniques and scientific information to contact lens practitioners, was attended by professional men from the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Dr. Otis pointed out that the recent upsurge in the use of contact lenses resulted in formation of the meetings which keep members of the eye professions abreast of the times and trends. According to the Eye Research Foundation there are approximately three million persons in the U. S. who are contact lens wearers, compared to only 200,00 five years ago. From severe vision maladies such as keratoconus to milder vision problems such as nearsightedness, there are many situations where contact lenses are used today. Now no larger than a cigarette tip, they can be worn all day long without removal and are even obtainable in colors for use as sunlenses.

Chairman Bocci, County Group Open Campaign Against 'Indecent' Media

Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr., chairman of the campaign to rid San Mateo county of indecent literature and pornographic photographs, "kicked off" the campaign at a county-wide meeting of civic leaders held Tuesday at San Mateo.

The committee has recently completed a survey of the entire county which shows that an average of 20 percent of all paper-bound books and magazines in the county are objectionable for youth according to the National Office for Decent Literature Code.

Paul Hupf, city attorney for Daly City, acted as moderator. He introduced Judge Bocci who presented the problem of the indecent magazines and books.

Assemblyman Louis Francis, Chairman of the State Assembly Judiciary Subcommittee on Pornographic Literature and Pictures, explained the methods used in other communities in the state to solve the problem by citizens' campaigns and voluntary action. His legislative committee is studying the need for new laws relating to the publication, sale and distribution of lewd and obscene literature. Particular attention is being devoted to studying and investigating the "impact of lewd and obsence literature and photographs on the youth of this state."

John Harrity, chairman of the citizens' committee of Modesto, told the large gathering how they met the problem with much success.

John Finigan, San Mateo County Chairman of the National Office for Decent Literature, explained the mechanics of a campaign for San Mateo County.

Some of the civic leaders who have already rallied to the aid of the campaign are Victor Mangini, Dean of Boys of Burlingame High School; Louis Beloni, Chief of Police of South San Francisco; Mayor [illegible]do Rozzi of South San [illegible]ncisco; Mrs. Roy N. Cloud, [illegible]sident of the 17th District PTA; Superior Judge Edmund Scott; Superintendent of Schools of San Mateo County James Tormey, and Mayor Jean Fassler of Pacifica.

One of Jefferson's newest clubs, the Business Club, took a tour of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Building. About 40 girls made the tour and had a nice time, topped off with a lunch served by the company.

The Constitution Committee has drawn up a constitution which has to be approved by the members of the club before it can be approved by the Executive Board. The enthusiasm of the club is very high, and the group is planning to have a few more activities in which the members can participate.

A poll was taken by the Totem Pole staff to find out what records the students here at Jefferson like best and want to dance to. The records will be purchased by the Executive Board. Although it was originally planned to buy only six records, the Executive Board decided to buy 12 instead.

The records that are to be purchased are: "April Love," "You Send Me," "Silhouette," "My Special Angel," "Could This Be Magic," "All The Way," "Chances Are," "Desiree," "Star Dust," "Happy Happy Birthday Baby," "To The Aisle," and "Fascination."

First Assembly

The Senior Class led the other classes by presenting the first assembly of the year, "Just for the Heck of It," November 27.

An enjoyable assembly was presented by those who participated: Mistress of Ceremonies Laura Robison and the cast, Linda Weinholz, Ed Davis, Gloria Pelz, Jerry Starr, Rich Erickson, Roy Estrada, Ron Molina, Dick Fudge, Carolyn Patten, Barbara Mattes, Gerry Tower, Dolores Lara, Lucille Morris, Deanna Dolan, Ino Patron, Jo Ann Bhend, Paul Tapia, Alberta Giannini, Barbara Myerson, Butch Miller, Fred Howard, Gladys Grassini, Vicki Tomasi, Betty Rodriguez, Jack Lewkowitz, and Puzzy Firth.

The Sportsmanship Trophy, which Jefferson won from South San Francisco at the November 22 football game, will be presented at the next assembly, which will be held sometime during January.

Plans are being made for the Junior Assembly which has been scheduled for January 15.

The Junior Class is showing a display of activity with both their future projects, the prom and the assembly.

The Betty Crocker Search for the Future Homemaker Test was taken by a group of senior girls on Tuesday, December 3. Each girl who took the test has a chance to win the local contest which will make her eligible for the national competition.

Letters To The Editor

Brisbane Woman Favors Study On Unified Schools

Dear Editor:

On Friday, December 6, a group of interested citizens from Brisbane attended a meeting on the proposed study of School District Unification.

I did not go over with the intention of favoring unification, but I do favor a study on the issue and the facts brought home to the people.

I would not be in favor of unification if it meant either higher taxes or lower educational standards for Brisbane, but I would be in favor of it if it meant one board of trustees that you could depend on to give you all of the facts on any school problem, especially concerning a high tax rate increase. When the school trustees got through speaking at that meeting, I did not even recognize the place they described as being the same Brisbane that I live in. (They must have meant Brisbane, Australia.)

Trustee Mays made a statement that seemed rather interesting in reference to our $250,000 school bond election of 1955. There was no opposition to this as we all knew we needed a new school, but the other night he must have forgotten to mention how much the new school really cost us. We were supposed to get two wings of classrooms and an auditorium for the $250,000 (this is what they sold the people of Brisbane on as the drawings were placed all over town), but instead of getting the two wings and an auditorium, we got one wing (6 classrooms) and an auditorium for $275,000, plus another $25,000 they took out of the general fund for other purposes. This left our school district practically broke, so they had to get more money someplace for an 80 cent per $100 property tax rate increase. This was supposed to be saved to build four more rooms, but from what one of them said the other night, I can see the classrooms have already dwindled down to two classrooms, although I still have the literature of their campaign of promising us four more rooms.

I do not see how the trustees can honestly say that the so-called key citizens of Brisbane are speaking for the people of Brisbane when asking that a study be dropped, and that we do not even want a study to be made. If these key citizens are so sure that they have the voters in the palm of their hands, why should they worry about a study being made, or even an election as far as that goes? If I were them and so sure of the votes, I would say, "go ahead make the study." . . . what do we have to worry about?

They spoke of the people losing control of their own school district. I do not think the people have much to say about controlling their own district, because if they lose an election and the people do not want an issue to go through, they keep putting it back on the ballot until it goes through anyhow, even if it does take a little ice cream and poison.

Yours truly,
Laura M. Johnson
Brisbane

Pack 248's Safety Movie Brings Award

Den Mother Mary Smith's teaching technique on bicycle safety recently earned Cub Pack 248 a safety plaque, presented by the regional Scout Council.

Mrs. Smith made a color-film home movie depicting the right and wrong ways to operate bicycles. The "cast" included Skipper and Wayne Smith, Bob Peirano, John Asaro, Jeffery Bernard, Bruce Saltzman, Neil Blackfield, Ricky Waterhouse and Michael Fagen.

Veterans News

By Grace J. Hill

Of what use to a war veteran is a "zero percent" disability rating from the Veterans Administration, since the Veterans Administration makes no compensation award for a disability less than 10 percent in degree?

Such a rating is a recognition by the Veterans Administration that the disability was incurred in or aggravated by military service, even though it is not a handicap at present. Many dormant disabilities may get worse as a veteran grows older, and when this happens the veteran may be able to draw compensation. Veterans are entitled to reopen their disability claims at any time.

Furthermore, a veteran who can show need for out-patient treatment may receive it for certain service connected disabilities, even those rated at less than 10 per cent.

Veterans Administration regulations on compensation, pension, insurance and out-patient care are rather complicated. So this information is very general. But the point is, don't sneer at a zero percent disability rating. It is good to have in reserve. Contact your veteran organization service officer for further information when in doubt.

UNIT ACTIVITIES

The American War Mothers will hold their meeting and annual Christmas party on Thursday evening, December 19. A very successful ward party was held at Ft. Miley hospital last Thursday evening.

Broadmoor Unit 824, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold its regular meeting and Christmas party Tuesday evening, December 17. Plans for a joint Christmas Party with the Post will be made at this time.

Brisbane Post and Unit 473, American Legion, will hold their annual community Christmas Party, Saturday evening, December 21, at the Brisbane Legion Hall.

Daly City Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold its meeting and annual Christmas Party, Wednesday evening, December 18. A social hour and exchange of gifts are planned. The unit has recently adopted a veteran at Palo Alto hospital who will be remembered at Christmas time with a gift package.

Several members of Old Glory Auxiliary 2044, VFW, have just returned from the hospital. Edna Correll, president, and Leona Lombardi have recently undergone surgery. Clara Poket was hospitalized with pneumonia. We are glad to have them home again.

San Mateo Salon 288, 8 & 40, will hold its regular meeting and Christmas party, Monday evening, December 16. Plans will be made to distribute scrap books, toys and other gifts to the little children at the Howard Foundation and Community Hospital wards. Several members attended the official visit of Departmental Chapeau, Ruth Johnson, to Tamalpa Salon in San Rafael on Thursday evening.

San Mateo Voiture, 40 & 8, will host Grand Chef de Gare Ralph Goodall at a dinner in Burlingame, Friday evening, December 20. An interesting evening has been planned.

Chamber of Commerce

Board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet this Thursday noon at Westlake Joe's. The Chamber's regular December meeting, a week later, same time and place, will be converted into a Christmas party. Wives and guests are invited to attend the December 19 fete, according to Peter J. Markovich, secretary-manager.

PERSONALITY SKETCH . . "Hey, you are doing great ... careful, don't lose your balance ...on your toes, quietly now, don't wake the baby..." and so on through 45 minutes of one of the most delightful and beneficial programs on the TV lanes "The Jack La Lanne Show" (KGO-TV, weekdays, 10:45 a.m.) a program of trimnastics with instructor Jack La Lanne.

For some time his program has been a "must" during our day. Our television set is located in our den where we write and occasionally we have thought as we glanced at our desk piled high, that we should work and watch not do the exercises. But the work must wait, because after a few minutes we find ourselves kicking off our shoes and joining in. Holder of five world records for feats of strength and endurance...the subject of many articles in national magazines ...handsome and photogenic... Jack is certainly an outstanding television personality. But what impresses us particularly is his genuineness and zest for living...his interest and concern for other people...and his delightful philosophy on life.

In our interview we asked him what he hopes to accomplish with his program. He said he wants to "help people to feel better, to look better, and to live longer through proper nutrition and physical exercise. He added, "The only way I can get anything out of life is to give something." He also said that the many grateful letters that he receives from his students are an inspiration to him.

Why not plan to watch Jack's show daily. We don't think you'll be able to resist joining him...and we know for certain that because of watching him your day will certainly get off to a happier start.

KIDDIES' CORNER — Do you have a dog? Perhaps you feel that although you and your family dearly love your pet, there are times when his behavior could be improved upon. Then KQED has just the program for you—a new charm course for canines, "Manners for Mutts" (Mondays, 6:30 p.m.) featuring the well-known dog trainer, Joe Simpson. We caught the premiere last week and found the show highly entertaining and instructive for all members of the family. Another welcome addition to Channel 9's long list of outstanding "live" shows!

COMING PROGRAMS — Two telecasts that should prove to be among the finest of the current season are scheduled for this Sunday, December 15 over NBC, KRON-TV, "Our Mr. Sun" will be telecast at 5:30 p.m. followed by a color-cast of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" starring Maurice Evans over the "Hallmark of Fame" at 6:30 p.m.

RAGNAR NORDGREN IS PROMOTED BY ARMY IN KOREA

Ragnar W. Nordgren, son of Mrs. Sarah A. Nordgren, 62 Bismark street, Daly City, recently was promoted to specialist third class in Korea where he is a member of the U. S. Army Advisory Group.

Specialist Nordgren, an aircraft mechanic, in the group, entered the Army in May, 1956, and received basic training at Fort Lewis, Washington. He arrived in the Far East in March of this year.

Nordgren is a 1950 graduate of Jefferson High School and was a locomotive fireman for the Southern Pacific Railroad, San Francisco.

Burglar Gets $27 From Launderette

A left-open front door transom resulted in a $27 burglary at the launderette, 26 Hillcrest drive, late Monday night, according to police.

Mrs. Alyce Grim, launderette manager, said the intruder raided the cash register, but did not touch the small change.

GETTING an early start in planning for the forthcoming fashion show and luncheon of Holy Angels Women's Guild are event co-chairmen Mrs. William McCarthy (left), 36 Palmdale avenue, and Mrs. Martin Bram, 863 Larchmont drive. Theme is "Around The World In 80 Minutes." The affair, with tickets $2.50 per person, will be staged in the Riordan High school cafeteria on Saturday, February 8.

Reverend Downey Baptizes 14 In Episcopal Rites

In preparation for the coming visit of Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Block, Bishop of California, to St. Martin's Episcopal church, a special baptismal service for 14 persons was conducted Sunday afternoon in Westlake auditorium by the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar. Several of those baptized will be among the class of 25 persons confirmed by Bishop Block at 11 a.m. this Sunday.

Decorated by the British government two years ago for his work in furthering good Anglo-American relations, Bishop Block is expected to demonstrate, in his address to the confirmation class, the dynamic manner of speech which brought him international recognition. A leader in church and civic affairs, he has been vice-president of the House of Bishops of the United States Episcopal church and recently received local recognition for his stand opposing taxation of non-profit schools in California.

"Ave Verum Corpus," by W. A. Mozart, will be sung as offertory anthem by the adult choir, directed by Joy Hindman with Richard Verney as organist. Confirmation service will replace the usual 9:30 a.m. family worship and 11 a.m. morning prayer services, currently being held in Westlake auditorium during construction of the new church at Southgate avenue and Bradley drive.

Honoring the confirmands and the Bishop, who last visited Westlake Sept. 6 for St. Martin's groundbreaking, a reception will be held, for which Mrs. Mervyn Stang and Mrs. Fred Brown are co-chairmen. Assisting them will be ladies of the previous class, confirmed last May by Suffragan Bishop Henry L. Shires, including Mrs. B. L. Silvestri, Mrs. Raymond Hunt, Mrs. Windsor Josselyn, Mrs. John Doelger, Mrs. Richard Nagy, Mrs. Harry Bosbery, Mrs. William A. Larsen, and Mrs. T. H. Vanham.

13 Westmoor Hi Students Write Winning Essays

Thirteen Westmoor High school students will have their original essays published in the second annual collection of prose essays written by high school students. This anthology is entitled "Young America Speaks" and will feature the winning essays of students in the Western states.

Although this was the tenth annual High School Essay Contest sponsored by the National Essay Association, Westmoor entered the competition for the first time this year. Three English five classes under the direction of Mrs. Doris Lindfors, English instructor, began a brief essay study culminating the study with two original 150-word essays. The 25 top essays were entered in the national competition, with 14 of them being selected for publication.

Rules for the contest limited the essays to 150 words or less and original. Any subject approved by the teacher was acceptable.

With this latitude in choice of subjects, Westmoor students wrote humorous essays about the value of doorknobes and fountain pens, satirical essays about tail fins on cars, descriptive essays about baby-sitters, and San Francisco.

Chanukah Dinner Set December 22 By Sisterhood

One of the outstanding affairs of the Temple Judea Sisterhood will be the Annual Chanukah Dinner scheduled Sunday, December 22, at Roberts-At-The-Beach, beginning at 5 p.m. A professionally catered meal will be served.

Highlight of the entertainment will include a Holiday Pageant by the children of the Religious School under the direction of Mrs. Jack Finkelstein, plus music and talent by outstanding artists. According to Mrs. Mary Rudorfer, chairman, and Mrs. Charles Wine, co-chairman, "this fete will no doubt be a complete sell-out," as evidenced by reservations to date. Those wishing to attend should call Mrs. Rudorfer, PL 6-3530, or Mrs. Wine, PL 6-1783, or the Temple Office, PL 5-6362. Adult dinners are $3.75 and children's dinners $1.50.

Sabbath services will be held this Friday evening, at the Temple House, 95 South Mayfair avenue. Rabbi Reichert will preach. Mrs. Charles Wine will kindle the Sabbath Lights and all attending are invited to partake of the Oneg Shabbat following the services.

The Religious School will celebrate the Chanukah holiday with parties and programs in their classrooms. A holiday service will be conducted in the assembly.

'Rumpelstiltskin' Treat For Children

For performances of The Actor's Workshop's latest Children's Theater production, "Rumpelstiltskin," will be given during the Christmas season at the Marine's theater, on Fridays and Saturdays, December 21, 22, 28 and 29, at 2:30 p.m.

A fairy tale with music and dance, written and directed by Jules Irving, who also plays the title role, "Rumpelstiltskin" is a rollickingly suspenseful story for children, with colorful sets and costumes designed by Jean Parshall. Music is by Richard Vartanian.

Tickets for Children's Theater may be obtained at the Actor's Workshop, 2528 Folsom, MI 8-1269, or MI 8-9918.

Colma PTA Holds Yule Meet At Jeff

Colma PTA held their Christmas meeting last week in the multi-use room of Jefferson Elementary school. Mrs. Gino Marchetti called the very short business meeting to order for approximately 250 guests. The flag was presented by William Bergman, William Burns and Hillis Warren, students of Jefferson.

It was reported that 106 parents and teachers joined Colma PTA during the membership drive. Mrs. Ann Gray's third and 4th grade class won the prize for the most members. Mrs. Ondusko's fifth grade class won the prize for the most rags collected during the rag drive.

Mrs. Ray Monson, co-chairman of the Sewing and Sunshine Mothers Club, reported that $50 was collected from their candy sale and was turned over to Colma PTA. A display of handmade aprons, potholders, etc. were sold at this meeting. The proceeds of this sale will also be turned over to Colma PTA.

A program was presented by the Jefferson school glee club and Instrumentalists. Vocal director Mrs. P. Hackett, instrumental director R. Snyder, and pianist Mrs. Murial Vint were complimented on their selection of music and direction of these children. Mary Jean Marchetti, soloist, with the assistance of the glee club sang "The Friendly Beast." Many other Christmas songs were sung by the glee club. What Christmas Means was narrated by Charles Warren, Bob McLeod and Jane Nave.

Mrs. J. Gustavino and Mrs. R. Sanguinetti reported that Mrs. C. Williamson and Mrs. Ondusko tied for the attendance banner.

Punch and cookies were served the guests by the students under the supervision of Mrs. Ray Lagomarsino and Mrs. A. Martinelli.

James Snell PTA Presents Musical Program Tuesday

Highlighting the James L. Snell PTA metting Tuesday will be their annual musical Christmas program at 8 p.m. in the multi-use room of Benjamin Franklin school.

Mrs. Muriel Vint, music coordinator for the Jefferson Elementary School district, has arranged the program for that evening. H. Hastings will direct the Benjamin Franklin band in several yuletide numbers.

Benjamin Franklin glee club, comprised of fifth and sixth grade students, will sing Christmas songs conducted by Miss C. Hackett and accompanied by Miss Beverly Treeter. The program will also include several selections sung by the Garden Village glee club with pupils of the fourth and fifth grades.

OLM Ladies Stage Cookie-Candy Sale Sunday For Parish

To help solve the Christmas gift problem, the Westlake Festival Committee of Our Lady Of Mercy church in Westlake has planned a cookie candy sale, scheduled this Sunday. Mrs. George Snell is chairman for this holiday event, and Mrs. Victor Schoenstein is her co-chairman.

Assorted shaped cookies, home-baked by over 100 women of the parish, will be on sale, along with Christmas candies and home-made fudge. Mrs. Snell has stated that these delicacies will be decoratively wrapped in various sized containers and made most welcome gifts under any Christmas tree.

The sale will commence at Our Lady of Mercy church, on Elmwood drive, after the 7 a.m. Mass and after each Mass on the hour until 1 p.m. All cookies and candies are attractively priced, from 75 cents to $1.50, and will be sold by the women of the parish.

Pfc. Gilbert Torr Finishes Equipment Course In Georgia

Pfc. Gilbert L. Torr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. Torr, 560 Hanover street, recently was graduated from the 20-week carrier equipment repair course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordan, Georgia.

The course trained Torr in the service and repair of field carrier telephones and telegraph equipment.

The 23-year-old soldier entered the Army in March 1957 and received basic training at Fort Ord.

He is a 1952 graduate of Central High School in St. Paul, Minnesota, and a former employee of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, South San Francisco.

REGISTRATIONS

Motor vehicle registrations in the United States this year will reach an all time high estimated at 67,231,000, according to the National Automobile Club.

OBITUARIES

Domenica Mozzini

Mrs. Domenica Mozzini, a resident of Colma 52 years, died Sunday at the age of 76.

A native of Italy, she lived at 1635 Sullivan avenue. She was the wife of the late Charles Mozzini.

Survivors include three children, Frank and Angelo Mozzini, and Mrs. Angelina Imperatori; three brothers, John, Lawrence and Bernardo Giussi; and three grandchildren.

Rosary was recited Tuesday night at W. C. Lasswell's. Entombment at Italian cemetery followed requiem high mass Wednesday morning at Holy Angels church.

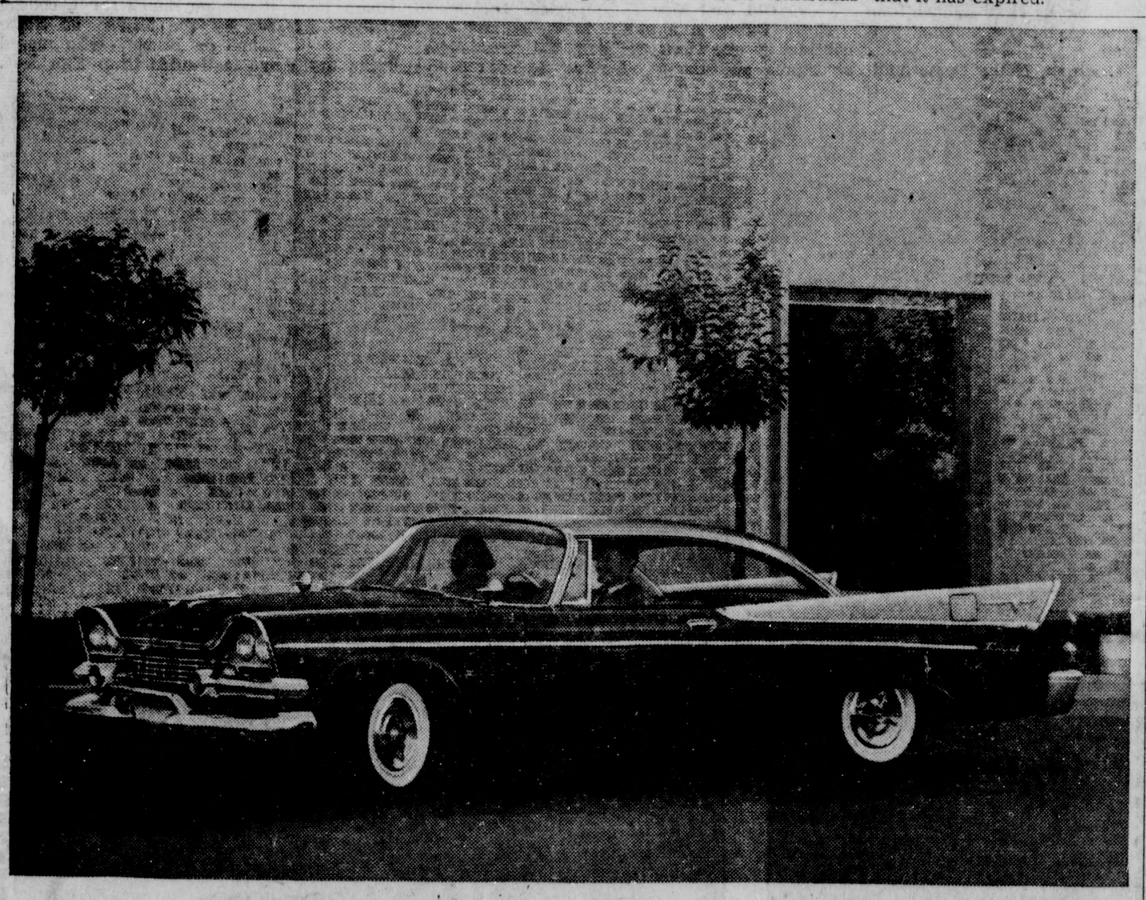
Margaret Graves

Services on Monday at Lasswell's paid final tribute to Mrs. Margaret S. Graves, of 43 Partridge lane, who died December 6 at Mt. Zion hospital.

A native of Arkansas, she was a member of the San Francisco Post Office Employees Union.

She is survived by her husband, William E. Graves; five sons, William Jr., Max, James, Wayne and Bill; four daughters, Mrs. Loyce Walker, Mrs. Wilma Dorey, Mrs. Betty Kopacz and Mrs. Barbara Melendez; 18 grandchildren, and 1 great-grandchild.

Interment was at Greenlawn cemetery.



"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

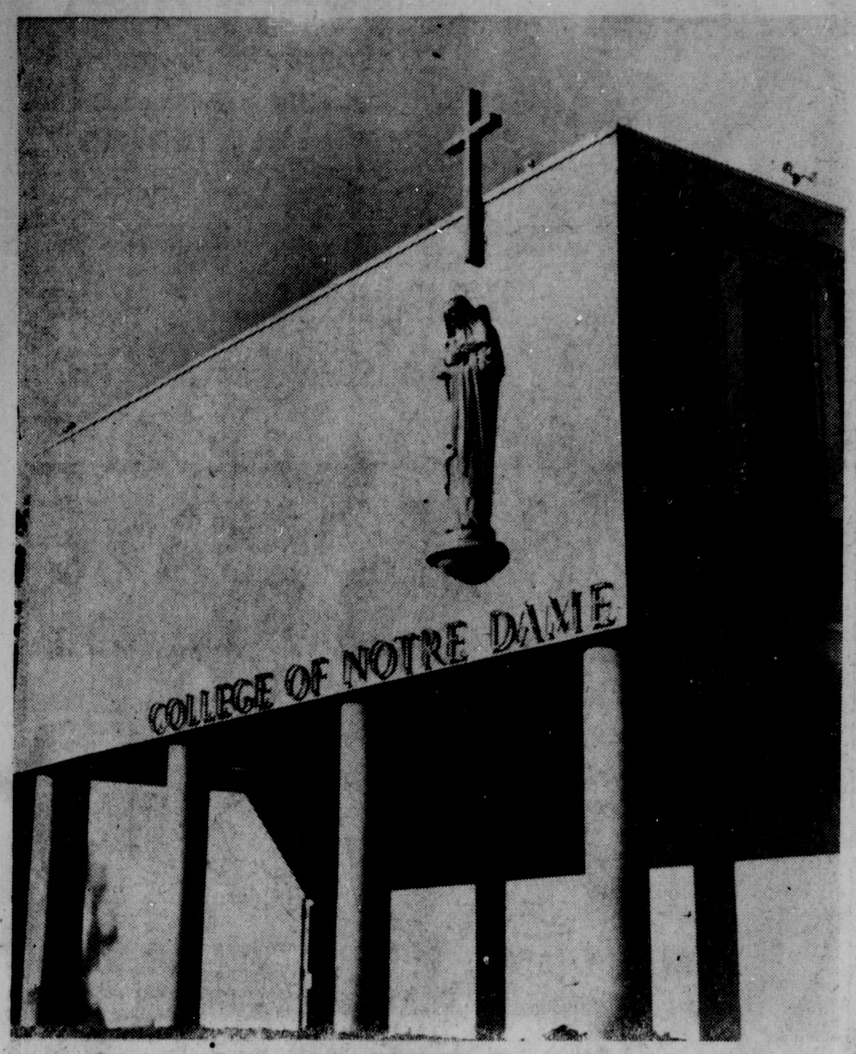
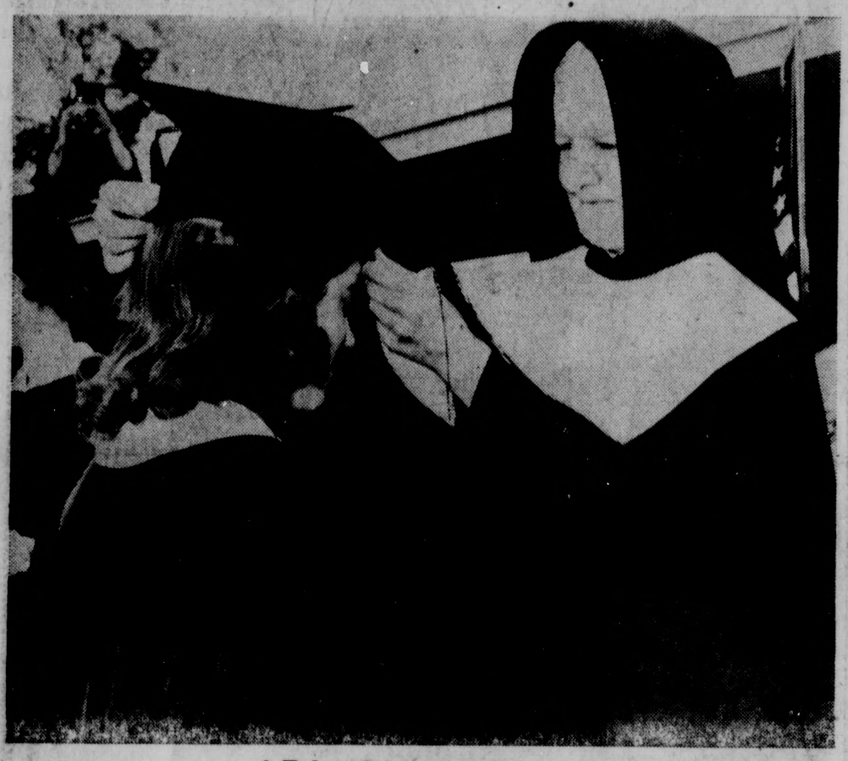
College Of Notre Dame Speeds Modernization



Gateway To Administration Building



A Token Of Accomplishment

Belmont School Expands

Story & Photos
By Roy Hurlbert

College of Notre Dame, chartered three years after the Civil War and located since 1923 on a picturesque 100-acre campus in growing Belmont, is one of America's better liberal arts colleges for women.

The Peninsula institution, on the road to complete modernization, is San Mateo county's only four-year college. Present enrollment is 250 young women who come from 55 cities of California, six other states and nine foreign countries.

About two-thirds of the students live on campus, at a cost of about $1300 a year for room, board and tuition. For non-residents whose homes are in the area, the yearly fee amounts to about $400.

Faculty Of 48

Sister Catharine Julie, Notre Dame president, supervises a faculty of 21 sisters, 14 lay men and 13 lay women. The addition of the lay faculty has expanded the curricula in the departments of art, music, home economics, psychology and languages.

In recent years, the exchange professorship program sponsored by the three Notre Dame colleges in this country has added much to the departments of science and English. Foreign study and research by faculty members has brought special benefits to faculty and students alike.

About 25 percent of Notre Dame's students are on partial scholarships. The college awards bachelor of arts degrees, with majors offered in English, social science, language, biology, home economics, music and art. Latest additions to the fields include chemistry, Italian and mathematics.

Women planning business careers may enroll in the four-year course leading to bachelor of science degrees in business administration. Notre Dame also recommends students for general elementary teaching credentials. Pre-nursing and pre-medical courses also are included in the curriculum, along with undergraduate preparation for laboratory and medical technicianship.

All students follow the general policy of the college, keyed to the threefold function in the training of the individual: intellectual discipline, social consciousness and a recognition of the religious and ethical values underlying life today. A special feature of this program is the required four year sequence in theology and philosophy.

Adult Division

In order to meet community needs in a rapidly expanding area, the college is developing an Adult Education Division. Staffing it are eminent lecturers, specialists in the fields of the social sciences, philosophy, education, music and theology. These courses are open to both men and women.

Notre Dame's recent $3 million physical expansion project, necessitated by a tremendous surge and projection in enrollment, includes plans for a new residence hall, additional library facilities, a chapel, and a fine arts building. The residence hall, designed to house 100 students and to include a lounge and recreational facilities, will be financed by a loan of $500,000 from the Federal Housing and Home Agency. The newly reorganized Notre Dame Alumnae Association is planning its first annual fund drive to aid the building program.

One unit, Notre Dame auditorium, has been completed in the building program. Seating 728 capacity and located on the lower part of the top of the hill campus, this building houses both academic and dramatic productions, as well as choral, orchestral and operatic programs.

The auditorium has excellent facilities for musical performances and various cultural attractions offered as community services to Peninsula patrons of the arts. The Notre Dame Music Associaiton presents top-flight artists in its concert series.

Old And New

Notre Dame is a study in contrast as one views the new structures and the pioneer campus buildings, many of the latter still much in use.

Landmark of them all is Ralston Hall, which dates back to 1854 when Gen. Leonetta Cipriani, an Italian count, bought the land and built his home. Six years later, Cipriani sold the estate to mining tycoon William C. Ralston, a San Francisco financier.

Ralston in 1865 remodeled the home, an extravagant four-story edifice, by adding wings, ells and hand-wrought tri-colored hardwood floors to its Renaissance-style architecture, which featured hand-etched glass throughout, silver doorknobs and hand-polished crystal chandeliers.

Ralston converted the entire first floor into a huge ballroom for his many guests. The home had 50 bedrooms, a main ballroom covered with plate glass mirrors, a mirrored banquet room, croquet grounds, a bowling alley and a six-section carriage house.

Strangely, Ralston's once gay ballroom is now the Notre Dame chapel, its mirrored walls covered. The former mansion also houses the student dining hall, their living quarters, and social activities.

From 1875 until 1923 the Ralston home changed hands many times. The latter year, it was purchased for a college site by the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur, who moved the institution from San Jose.

THE FABULOUS TIN CAN

By Jean Taylor

The tin can has long been the butt of many a billy goat story—for goats are known for their affection for tin cans, in fact, they will eat anything! Tin cans are associated with many things—take weddings, you'll see them trailing after a honeymoon car much to the annoyance and embarrassment of the riders. And of course, you'll find your tin can wherever there's civilization, for the can has become a vital part of our living.

When you pull a tin can of food from off your cupboard shelf do you ever stop to think what brought it there? It's so convenient—so easy to open with the flip of an opener, and all you have to do is to heat the food and serve it. We seem to take all this for granted. Think of the many things that brought it to you—all the very complicated processes that go into scientifically controlled canning. Then think of the tin can itself, which must be manufactured to meet the most exacting standards of safety—for each tin can is coated with plating which saves the tin and resists corrosion and rusting. Yet we take all this for granted.

Today the manufacturing of cans is one of our greatest industries, and the Continental Can Company is the pioneer. One of the best examples of can making, under scientifically controlled conditions, is the Continental Can Company, where every detail of the process is carried out to perfection, so that you may enjoy your evening meal.

WESTLAKER HAS XMAS EVE DATE IN MUNI COURT

Harry E. Carey, 45, of Westlake, has a Christmas Eve date in court, resulting from his arrest here Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on suspicion of drunk driving.

When Officer James Bergstrom halted the manufacturing agent's "weaving" vehicle at the corner of Hillside boulevard and A street, the Westlaker incoherently answered that he was "going home," though he was headed in the opposite direction.

Released on $500 bail, Carey, who lives at 110 Crestwood drive, apartment 7, is due in municipal court the morning of December 24.

Valentinos Boast Priority On Girls

Last Friday proved doubly eventful for Mr. and Mrs. Sam Valentino, 327 Westlake avenue. The Daly City couple became grandparents for the fifth and sixth times as their daughters, Mrs. William Day and Mrs. Robert Rafter, welcomed wee girls on the same day.

The Valentinos are beginning to believe it's a woman's world. They have no grandsons.

Mrs. Day's baby weighed 9 lbs. 1 oz., Mrs. Rafter's 7 lbs. 15 ozs.

24 Sea Scout Representatives Plan Big Event

A joint committee composed of 24 representatives of Sea Explorer Ships from the San Mateo Council and of Mariner Scout Ships from their North, South, and Sequoia Councils met last month at Hillside to plan their forthcoming Bridge of Honor and Ball which is tentatively set for Saturday, January 18. The meeting was devoted mainly to the organization of the committee.

Among the business undertaken was the election of two general co-chairmen and the establishment of seven committees and the appointment of their chairmen. As a result of the election Kevin Smith, boatswain of Sea Explorer Ship 161, Belmont, and Marty Trehr, of Belmont Mariner Ship 66, were elected general co-chairmen. They then appointed the following committee chairmen: Ginger Lannin from San Carlos and Mariner Ship 10 was appointed as chairman of the Decorations and Hall Committee; chairman of the Band Arrangement Committee is Jo Anne Eckert from the Daly City area, from Mariner Ship 13 of Colma; in charge of the Refreshments is Margaret Bayne, a Crew Leader of Mariner Ship 66, Belmont; Frank Todd, representing South San Francisco Sea Explorer Ship 76, will take charge of the Balloting and Queen Committee; from Ship 9 of Menlo Park is Sandi Hammerman, Tickets and Finance Committee; Gary Dill from San Mateo and Boatswain of Ship 111 of Burlingame will see that the Bridge of Honor Committee runs smoothly; and heading the Publicity Committee and who is a Crew Leader of Belmont Ship 161 is Bill Wilkinson of Redwood City.

The committee also met on Monday. Reports of the chairmen and selection of a theme was the principal business.

Jeff Five Trips Galileo, 30-29; Hosts Sonorans Here This Friday

Indian Lightweight Cagers

Haanen Sparks Thrilling Nod Over SF Quint

Mike Orlich's fast-jelling Jefferson varsity cagers continue their pre-league practice wars this Friday night at 6:45 o'clock when they host Sonora High on the Indians' floor.

The Tribe ran its exhibition record to 3-1 here Tuesday with a tight 30-29 win over Galileo High of San Francisco. Steve Mezzera's Indian 30's suffered their second straight loss, dropping the lightweight go, 39-23.

In Tuesday's varsity tangle, Jeff and Galileo put emphasis on ball-control. Guards Barry Haanen and Gary Ryan, both from Brisbane, carried the load offensively.

Haanen got 12 points and Ryan 7. High scorer, however, was Galileo's Bobby Joe Davis with 13.

Jeff led throughout, with the quarter tallies reading 8-4, 15-13 and 21-19.

Mezzera, using 17 players, saw his units fall apart in the second period after holding an 11-10 edge at the end of the first quarter. It was 22-13 at the intermission and 32-16 going into the final period.

Forward Ino Patron was high for Jeff with 7 points. Center Alan Lee had 6.

SIXTH GRADE FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS

Jeff Athletes Hear St. Clair, Video's Sherwood

Tackle Bob St. Clair of the 49ers and TV playboy Don Sherwood were special guests Wednesday night at the fall sports award banquet for Jefferson High's athletes in the school cafeteria.

St. Clair made a few comments on life among the pros, while Sherwood was "right at home" in front of the mike.

Honored were Jefferson's block winners in football, cross country and 10's and 20's basketball. Dinner opened the festivities, which were concluded by a film on 49er games, with St. Clair the commentator.

FIRST RAM WIN

Westmoor Tops Serra In Hoop Upset, 31-29

Westmoor's varsity cagers, stingy but deadly on long shots, Tuesday afternoon upset Serra's favored Padres, 31-29, in a closely waged practice game in the Ram gymnasium.

The Padres won the lightweight game by a lopsided 64-22, no surprise since they are rated one of the Peninsula's top 30's aggregations.

Guards Bill Dougherty and Ross Holmgren paved Westmoor's first varsity victory with long ones from 30 feet out. Holmgren accumulated 10 points and Dougherty contributed 8, including the winning bucket.

The encounter was razor-close during the first half, the quarter scores knotted at 8-8 and 14-14.

Center Larry Harper of the Rams fouled out midway in the third period as Serra finished the session with a 24-19 lead. But Harper's replacement Gary Pederson, filled in well and the Rams outscored the Padres in the last quarter, 12 points to 5, to take the game.

Coach Tony Giammona used only six players. Junior Gary Twitty and soph Rich Reese opened at forwards, senior Harper was the pivot, and soph Dougherty and junior Holmgren manned the guards.

Byron Van Alstyne's 30's were outclassed badly, trailing at the intermission 37-15, as Serra swept its bench. Bobby Mattos, with 13 points, was the Padres' best pumper, while Buddy Piazza got 6 to lead the Ram lightweights.

Westmoor's two teams invade Palo Alto this Friday afternoon for a pair with the highly rated Vikings.

Girl Motorist, 15, Rams Into Garage

A 15-year-old Daly City high school girl "lost control" of the car she was driving Sunday afternoon and rammed into the garage of a home at 224 Glenwood drive in Westlake.

Patricia Culley, of 678 Stoneyford drive, and her passenger, Larry C. Britton, 16, of 210 Village Lane, owner of the vehicle, escaped injury.

The girl was not cited pending further investigation, according to the police report.

DC Eagles Slate New Year's Party

Daly City Eagles will hold their annual New Year's party Tuesday, December 31, from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the Eagles hall, 3344 San Jose avenue.

Eagles and their guests are invited to the admission-free event.

Chairman is Herman Kalinin, assisted by Jim Goulden.

Brisbaners Cinch 1st Half Title

Brisbane's Marketmen, rulers of the roost last year, Tuesday night cinched the first half title in the DC-Colma Bowling League by taking three games from next-to-last Prudential Insurance.

In so doing, the baysiders upped their lead to six full games over second place Carmona Chemical. The latter took a split over also-ran Edisco.

Improving Globe Tavern moved into contention and third spot with a sweep over Joe's Nursery.

Next week's main games pit Brisbane against Giannini Market, and Carmona against Don's Standard Station. Second half of league play begins after the Yule holidays.

Marc Makes All-Tourney At Hayward

High-jumper Dennis Marc, Jefferson's fine center, won a berth on the All-Tourney squad Friday as Coach Mike Orlich's varsity Indians split two games in the annual Hayward Invitational Basketball tournament.

Scoring mostly on tip-ins, Marc bagged 16 points as the Indians dumped Arroyo High in the losers' round, 40-31. Jeff lost its tourney opener earlier the same day to Castro Valley, 33-25, after trailing at the halftime, 23-8.

Orlich was much pleased with the tourney work of forwards Wayne Lewis and Ernie Howren, graduates from last year's 30's. Other starters Friday were senior guards Barrie Haanen and Gary Ryan, the Brisbane duo who are a match for any on the Peninsula.

The Hayward games consisted of five minute quarters, thus the low scores. Jeff's 41 points against Arroyo was high team tally for the tourney.

Favored Bishop O'Dowd outlasted Castro Valley for the tourney title Saturday night.

Last year, Jeff's Larry Pottinger was voted the tourney's outstanding player.

3 CITY-BACKED CAGE LEAGUES OPEN SATURDAY

Action begins this Saturday in the city-sponsored sixth, seventh and eighth grade basketball leagues on the War Memorial court, according to a schedule released today by Dee Van Nest.

The games begin at 11 a.m., noon and 1 p.m., starting with sixth grade competition and ending with the eighth graders.

Entered in the sixth grade loop are the squads of Ben Franklin, Our Lady of Mercy, War Memorial, Westlake school and Colma.

Competing in the other leagues will be Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Holy Angels, Westlake Park, War Memorial, Westlake School, Lincoln Park, Crocker School and Colma.

Late entries will be accepted by Van Nest, so all individuals and teams interested should immediately contact Van Nest, PL 5-0850, extension 18.

Golfing Burglar Gets 6 Old Balls

Loss of six old golf balls and door damage amounting to $20 at the storage shack was reported to police Tuesday by the superintendent of the Lake Merced Golf Club, 2100 Junipero Serra boulevard.

Ed Berardy said the culprit ransacked the middle-of-the-course shack after kicking in the bottom panel of its front door.

Rec Department Plans Hi School Basketball Loop

Entry forms are now available for prospective teams in the High School Basketball League, sponsored by the department of parks and recreation.

An eight-team loop is planned, according to Dee Van Nest, with all Daly City area high school students eligible except those who are playing for the Jefferson and Westmoor 30's and varsity squads.

Persons or groups wishing to enter should immediately contact Harry Aronson, recreation leader, War Memorial building, between the hours of 7 and 9:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or call the department of parks and recreation, PL 5-0850, extension 18.

League play will take place on the War Memorial courts on Monday and Wednesday nights, beginning January 6, Van Nest said.

Hire Replacements For Two Teachers

Trustees hired two replacements last week after accepting "with regret" the resignations of two elementary school teachers.

Mrs. Lois Limbach has replaced Mrs. Irma Tuominen at Jefferson Annex. Mrs. Kathryn Gerdes will take over the classes of Mrs. Marilyn Smith at Olympia in February.

REPORTER LAMENTS

Tapia Dominates Prep Statistics But He's 'Overlooked' By Press

By Roy Hurlbert

We viewed with hackneyed "alarm" last week the All-Northern California high school football squads, picked by metropolitan sportswriters.

Couldn't find the name of Paul Tapia, Jefferson's record-breaking passer. Not even on honorable mention.

This makes us red under the collar. Paul led ALL of Northern California in passing, throwing 21 touchdown strikes this fall. Yet the men who compile the all-area lists refused to recognize the performance.

The Peninsula Sportswriters Association, by majority (not unanimous vote), placed Tapia on the All-Peninsula first team.

Not Unanimous

Funny he couldn't get a unanimous vote. All Paul did was lead the Peninsula in passing effectiveness, TD tosses and total yardage. But this wasn't good enough for a few of the balloteers. These "experts" figured Paul passed so much that he was bound to connect just on the law of averages.

Tapia, however, wasn't alone in the left-out department. Teammate Gary Ryan, the all-around lad from Brisbane, was placed on the honorable mention squad—though he was the Peninsula's leading pass catcher and a two-way standout season long.

We are not one to take anything away from any boy named to an all-anything team. But we will complain when a deserving somebody is left off. Tapia, as far as the All-Northern Cal team is concerned, was slighted, we feel, as was Ryan in the All-Peninsula pickings.

System Faulty

The scribes would do well to let each coach and his players select all-opponent teams, then use these as a guide in choosing all-league teams. We feel the coaches and players know more about the caliber of the opposition than the lads in the press box. Sometimes the typewriter tappers are a bit prejudiced when it comes to the hometown flock. And we aren't excluding ourselves from this category.

VARSITY LOSES, 47-44

Van Alstyne Scores 20 As Profs Defeat Rams

Former USC court star Byron Van Alstyne sparked Westmoor High's faculty cagers to a second half 47-44 comeback victory over the Ram varsity Friday night before a full house in the Westmoor gymnasium.

Top scorer in the contest with 20 points, Van Alstyne, coach of the school's 30's, revived his adult playmates after they trailed at halftime, 25-14. Byron rammed home 14 of his total in the last two quarters as the profs rallied to knot the game at 44-all with a minute and a half left.

Forward Gary Twitty and center Larry Harper led the and 12 points. Rod Losberger varsity pointmakers with 14 was second high gun for the faculty with 11 points.

The victory was the second for the teachers over the varsity in their annual series.

Principal Glenn South, former Rose Bowl quarterback for Stanford, sweated out the tense tilt as coach of the winners. After the game, South received a telegram from the National Basketball Association, asking that his faculty squad consider an invitation to the all-pro tournament March 2-6 at Denver.

"Sorry, but we'll have to turn it down," lamented the towel-twisting South. "Education comes first, you know."

DAVE CANTWELL WINS KNIGHTS' 'HOLE IN ONE'

About 5½ inches from the cup gave Colma's Dave Cantwell top honors and a $350 set of clubs last week in the third annual Knights of Columbus "Hole-In-One" tourney at the Colma driving range.

Chairman Andy Parodi, of Marian Council 3773, thanking merchants and individuals who helped the cause, said the turnout was a "record one" for the yearly feature.

Other close finishers and their prizes: Dennis McCarthy, 9 inches away, $100 merchandise order from Town and Country; Jim Reid, 12½ inches, $30 gift; Dave Synden, 20 inches, $25 merchandise order, and Wayne Oschwanger, 21 inches, $25 merchandise order from King's Market.

OBITUARIES

Anne Kennedy

Mrs. Anne Isabelle Kennedy, former Daly City resident who lived in San Mateo the past eight years, died December 4 at her Peninsula home. She was 75.

A native of San Francisco, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Anita Miller, San Mateo; Miss Gertrude L. Kennedy, Los Angeles; Sister M. Monica, Los Angeles; and a son, William T. Kennedy, of Burlingame.

Rosary was recited Friday evening at the Wayside chapel of Patterson-O'Connell in San Mateo. Requiem high mass Saturday morning at St. Gregory's church was followed by interment at Holy Cross cemetery.

The family requests that friends wishing to remember Mrs. Kennedy donate to the American Heart Fund.

Guisti, Ex-Jeff Gridder, Named On All-Big Eight

College of San Mateo guard Richard Guisti, former Jefferson High football mainstay, was named to the second team of the All-Big Eight Conference squad this week.

CSM finished in a tie for last place with Oakland JC. Both squads had 1-6 records.

Two other Jeff products were starters for Coach Jesse Freitas this fall, center Al Figone and halfback Ron O'Rourke.

Halt Musician Here For Drunk Driving

George H. Wall, 40, a musician who lives at 35 Fairmont drive, was arrested for drunk driving Saturday night after his "weaving" car was halted on Glenwood drive by Officer Al Nicolini.

Nicolini said Wall's vehicle narrowly missed hitting his police car when the musician made a right turn off Alemany onto Lake Merced boulevard. Nicolini, further noticing that Wall was driving on both sides of the street, pulled the musician to the curb a few blocks later.
